

Cladding Stone Cassidy System - NATURAL BLUE QUARTZ STONE

Blue Quartz stone cladding is a thin layer of pregiate Quartz stone, with average size of 40 mm, is often fitted to lightweight substrate to reduce the material cost of construction, or applied to a building or other structures made of different materials and gives your structures a unique new look, perfect for a traditional or modern look, ideal system for both small and large scale structures.

Cladding stone Cassidy System, is :

- Unique lightweight natural stone
- Internal and external application
- Can be both traditional and modern looking
- Fire resistance
- Fast and easy installation
- Agile Transport in confortable packages
- Reduces other building materials
- Reduces heat dispersions
- Weather protection

Blue Quartz Claddind system

CASSIDY BLUE QUARTZ CLADDING

TEXTURES

Irregular natural Texture

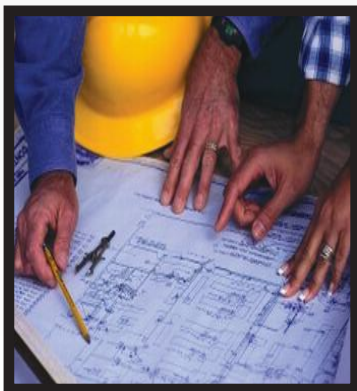

More defined texture

Ashler texture

DESIGN DEPT.

Our specialized internal team of engineers and designers, is at your disposal for the design and personalization to create a unique high value final product. Through site inspection, we will be able to give you, the best solution, correct choice of material and colours, finishes, and show you the end result through 3D simulation, and any kind of request the customers needs.

Fixing in accordance with BS 8298

On base our experience we recommend for fixing, Larsen Products adhesive.

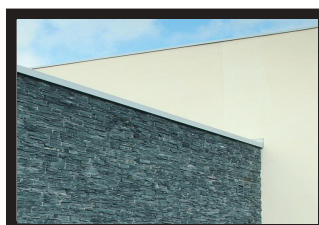

FIXING

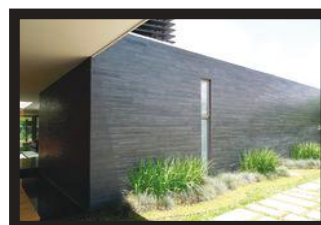

WORKS

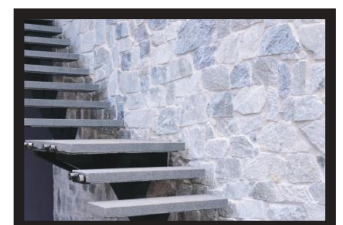

Fireplaces

External cladding

External cladding

Interior Cladding